

NEWARK, NJ BR 00616,
001, 1986

You Can Change a Life

IF YOU:

- Know how to read
- Can volunteer two hours per week
- Are willing to be trained

BE A TUTOR, Join the Newark Literacy Campaign

Hundreds of Newarkers—children, teenagers and adults, want to learn how to read better. The Newark Literacy Campaign, headquartered at the Newark Public Library, has reading centers in neighborhoods across the city and needs reading tutors now.

Reading Changes Lives

TO LEARN HOW
Call (201) 667-6176

The Newark Literacy Campaign is an independent, non-profit organization with 75 member organizations dedicated to eradicating low literacy in Newark through the efforts of concerned volunteers.